

Spring 2007 Series Schedule

February 7th - Paul Fackler, NC State University

"Real Options Approaches to Conservation Easements"

March 7th - Charles Mason, University of Wyoming

"On the Interaction of Eco-Labeling and Trade"

March 14th - Sheila Olmstead, Yale University

The Impacts of the 'Right to Know': Information Disclosure and the Violation of Drinking Water Standards.

March 27th (Tuesday) - Klaus Moeltner, University of Nevada, Reno - Herbert 258

"Meta-Regression and Benefit Transfer: Data Space, Model Space, and the Quest of 'Optimal Scope'"

May 2nd - Craig Landry, East Carolina University –

"Preference Stability and Market Experience: An Experimental Analysis of Anchoring Statements of Value in a Field Setting"