

CEnREP Colloquium

Fall 2008 Schedule

September 16

(Room 3220, Nelson Hall)

Lori Benneer, Duke University and Visiting Scholar, CEnREP

“Behavioral Responses to Environmental Information: Evidence from a Household Survey in Bangladesh”

September 30

Michael Roberts, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics

"Novel Methods for Evaluating Impacts of the Conservation Reserve Program"

October 14

Osman Gulseven, Agricultural and Resource Economics

“A Hedonic Metric Approach to Demand Estimation Using Micro-level Data”

October 28

Greg Frey, Department of Forestry and Environmental Resources

“An evaluation of private land uses using a Monte Carlo risk simulation in the Lower Mississippi Alluvial Valley”

November 18

Keri Perez, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics

“Determinants of Agricultural Landowners' Supply of Conservation Services: Evidence from the Conservation Reserve Program”

December 2

Adam Domanski, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics

“Choice Set Sampling and Nonparametric Estimation of Mixing Distributions”