

Extra Questions on Models and Data

1. A special class of mathematical models are statistical models - taking randomness into account - what statistical models come straight to mind?
2. Can you think of instance when mathematical models have been abused and misinterpreted and taken out of context ? ( extrapolation).
3. Which scientific fields use data to draw conclusions?