

When Spills Occur...

Alert Occupants in Area!

Immediately let others in the area know a spill has occurred. Notify your supervisor or lab manager. Evaluate the need to isolate the area or evacuate if necessary.

Assess the Situation

Is this a major or minor spill?

Identify the material and its general hazards. Refer to MSDS for more information. Determine if you have proper training and appropriate materials to clean up the spill. Request assistance by calling University Police at 911. Make sure you call from a secure location and provide Campus Police with all relevant information once they arrive.

Wear Personnel Protective Equipment

Never attempt to clean up a spill without the proper equipment and proper training. Refer to the MSDS for information. Call the Environmental Health and Safety Center for assistance: 515-7915
