

Stephanie Kelber – Pathways Leadership Program Manager and Training & Organizational Development Consultant

Stephanie joined NC State University in July 2005 as an Organizational Consultant for campus and currently serves as the Program Manager for the Pathways Leadership Development program for employees in formal and informal leadership positions across campus. She has 15 years of professional experience in both the private and public sector including: leadership development program management, career coaching, professional development training, organizational consulting, project management, and event planning. In addition to Pathways, she has also managed the HR Academy Program and the New Employee Orientation (NEO) program. She facilitates professional development courses on best practices in leadership, communications, feedback, diversity, generations in the workplace, business writing, customer service, and others. Stephanie has been invited to present at several conferences for the University and serves on various HR Special Project Committees. Prior to NC State, Stephanie served in the roles of training and development, organizational design, marketing, and systems support at Nortel Networks for six years. She also taught business courses for Wake Technical Community College in the areas of marketing, management and customer service. As well, she served as a private consultant for small business planning and managed various community service programs and events. Stephanie earned her Masters in Adult Education (1995) from NC State University, with concentrations in Training and Organizational Development and a minor in Counseling and she earned a B.S. in Business Administration (1991) from Meredith College with concentrations in Marketing and Communications. She is also a certified administrator of the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI).