

SPANISH VOICES

spanish and english in the southeastern united states

Produced and Directed by DANICA CULLINAN

Executive Producer WALT WOLFRAM

www.talkingnc.com

a production of

THE NC LANGUAGE AND LIFE PROJECT, NC-STATE UNIVERSITY

www.talkingnc.com

DESCRIPTION

Explores the Spanish speaking population in the Southeastern United States and the interaction between culture and language as well as Spanish and English.

SYNOPSIS

Spanish speakers drawn to the southeastern United States over the past couple of decades have had a notable impact on the identity of many urban and rural communities. Spanish Voices reveals some of the social and personal issues that are part of language contact situations worldwide- and many that are unique to the Southeast. Students and teachers, musicians and dancers, recent immigrants and long-term residents share their experiences regarding the difficulty in maintaining a home language, the challenge in learning a new language, and the varieties of both Spanish and English that have become part of their Southern experience.

CREW & CREDITS

Walt Wolfram—Executive Producer

Danica Cullinan—Producer & Director, Videography, Audio, Editing

Neal Hutcheson—Filming & Editing Consultant

Charlotte Vaughn—Co-Producer

Sarah Blackmon—Design

Music by Orquestra GarDel

FUNDED BY

The National Science Foundation

The William C. Friday Endowment

College of Humanities and Social Sciences at North Carolina State University

ABOUT THE NC LANGUAGE & LIFE PROJECT

The North Carolina Language and Life Project (NCLLP) is a part of NC State University's Humanities Extension, and is an umbrella organization for regional research, cultural preservation, and the production of educational documentary media for television and classroom.

The goals of the NCLLP are:

- To preserve the rich heritage of language variety in North Carolina as it reflects the different cultural traditions of its residents.
- To gather basic research information about language variety in order to understand the nature of language variation and change.
- To provide information about language differences and language change for public and educational interests.
- To use the material collected in research projects for the improvement of educational programs about language and culture.

SPANISH VOICES – DVD DETAILS

Distributed by

The North Carolina Language & Life Project
USA • 2010 • 55 minutes • Spanish and English

CONTACT INFORMATION

The North Carolina Language and Life Project

919/515-1836 (fax)

<http://www.talkingnc.com>

Danica Cullinan – Producer / Director

919/815-2594

NCLLP, NC State University, Box 8105, Raleigh, NC 27695-8105

Walt Wolfram – Executive Producer / Director of the NC Language and Life Project

919/515-4139

walt.wolfram@ncsu.edu

NCLLP, NC State University, Box 8105, Raleigh, NC 27695-8105

press photos available at www.talkingnc.com

NC Language & Life Project YouTube channel:

<http://www.youtube.com/user/NCLLP>