

TECHRevolution

CHANGING THE WORLD 1 INNOVATION
AT A TIME

Purpose: TechRevolution is designed to inspire and support full spectrum innovation. Numerous processes and challenges exist between the realization of a new discovery and the availability of a real-world solution. The NC State OTT Seminar Series brings expert leaders, advisors and panels to campus to discuss their areas of expertise in emerging trends, unmet market needs, funding opportunities, and business process management. Each event will feature targeted discussions regarding specific innovation topics followed by an informal reception to encourage attendees to network in a social setting.

Audience: This series is designed for NC State researchers who are interested in promoting and growing innovations from lab to market. We encourage sponsors, guest speakers and panelists to bring associates from their respective organizations to meet NC State's leading innovators and entrepreneurs. The seminar series welcomes the regional innovation and business community as well.
