

January 3, 2011

This letter is to notify you that you have been placed on Academic Warning for the 2011 Spring Semester. As a student on Academic Warning, you are required to meet with your academic adviser or the coordinator of advising in your college or department at the beginning of the semester. Meeting with your academic adviser is not only a good way to keep yourself on track, but it also satisfies part of the university's continuation policy. Once you have met with your adviser and completed the Academic Advisement Report, you will be cleared for future registration. The Academic Advisement Report can be found here: <http://www.ncsu.edu/registrar/forms/pdf/advisement.pdf>

Please refer to the Continuation of Undergraduate Enrollment regulation for details about the minimum eligibility standards for continued enrollment.

(http://www.ncsu.edu/policies/academic_affairs/academic_progress/REG02.05.1.php)

We want you to succeed at North Carolina State University. In order to help students achieve success, NC State provides numerous counseling and tutoring opportunities. Your academic adviser will be able to help you identify which academic support programs would be best for you. These programs may include:

Office of Advising Support, Information and Services (OASIS): <http://www.ncsu.edu/oasis>

Counseling Center: http://www.ncsu.edu/student_affairs/counseling_center

Undergraduate Tutorial Center: http://www.ncsu.edu/tutorial_center

Career Center: <http://www.ncsu.edu/career>

If you have any questions about NC State University's continuation policy or how it affects you, please contact your academic adviser.

Sincerely,

Louis D. Hunt, Jr.

Vice Provost for Enrollment Management and Services

And University Registrar

LDH/jec