

External and academic advisory boards provide guidance to the Director. Comprised of key educational and business leaders, the National Advisory Board advises the Director and the Dean on national educational issues that are relevant to the Institute. The Faculty Advisory Board is comprised of Friday Institute collaboratory leaders, selected Friday Institute principal investigators, as well as key faculty researchers from other NCSU colleges, and will advise the Director on strategic research and outreach directions. Institute staff will report directly to the Director, and the Director will report to the Dean of the College of Education.

